DOES THE LAW ENSURE GENDER EQUALITY AND PROTECTION FROM VIOLENCE?

YES

The law provides for gender equality and/or protection from gender-based violence and is substantially compliant with international standards. A green category does not indicate that the law is perfect or that gender justice in the relevant topic area has been fully achieved.

Grey: No available data or inadequate information.

NO

The law does not provide for gender equality and/or there is no or minimal protection from gender-based violence.

Partly

Some gender justice aspects of the law have been addressed, but important gender inequalities remain.

* Some laws in "Kurdistan Region of Iraq" are different to Iraq's and they are reflected in the Country Assessment and the 2 page summary.

Gender Justice Assessment: Explanation of Categories

Laws were categorized using a simple colour code system that compares the laws identified in the country profiles with international human rights standards and the recommendations of the UN Committee on the Elimination of Violence against Women. The objective is to highlight examples so that countries can learn from each other and to assist discussion about the legislative models that support the achievement of gender justice.

CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS

Constitution

- GREEN Articles of the Constitution refer directly to gender equality or sex/gender discrimination.
- AMBER There is some express or implied reference in the Constitution to gender or sex, but it provides limited or weak equality rights to women.
- RED Articles of the Constitution do not address gender equality or sex/gender discrimination.

CEDAW

Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW)

- GREEN Ratified with no reservations.
- AMBER Ratified with reservations.
- RED Not ratified.

NATIONALITY LAWS

Right to pass nationality to children

- GREEN Women have the same rights as men to pass their nationality to a child.
- AMBER Women have the same rights as men to pass their nationality to a child under Constitutional provisions, with legislation pending; children acquire some residency rights from their mother.
- RED Women do not have the same rights as men to pass their nationality to a child.

Right to pass nationality to foreign spouse

- GREEN Women have the same rights as men to pass their nationality to a foreign spouse.
- RED Women do not have the same rights as men to pass their nationality to a foreign spouse.

CRIMINAL LAWS

Domestic violence

- GREEN There is a law on domestic violence that enables women to obtain protection orders from a court and that criminalizes domestic violence.
- AMBER There is a domestic violence law, but either it does not enable women to obtain protection orders from a court or it does not criminalize domestic violence.
- RED There is no domestic violence law.

Rape (except marital rape)

- GREEN Rape is criminalized. Penalties for aggravated rape do not include capital punishment.
- AMBER Rape is criminalized. Penalties for aggravated rape include capital punishment.
- RED Rape is not criminalized.

Marital rape

- GREEN Marital rape is expressly addressed by penal law and criminalized.
- AMBER Marital rape is sometimes prosecuted under rape or other laws.
- RED The legal definition of rape in the Penal Code/Sharia is interpreted by the legal system as excluding marital rape.

Femicide: Mitigation of penalty

- GREEN There is no provision allowing for the reduction of penalty for femicide including so called “honour” crimes.
- AMBER Some provisions allowing for reduction of penalty for femicide have been repealed, but loopholes remain.
- RED A provision allows for the reduction of penalty for femicide or so called “honour” crimes.

Exoneration by marriage

- GREEN The Penal Code does not include a provision exonerating an offender for rape, abduction, or other crimes if he marries the victim.
- AMBER Exoneration of offenders upon marriage occurs in limited circumstances, e.g., as a result of enforcement of customary law or loopholes in penal codes allowing for exoneration where the victim is a girl below a prescribed age.
- RED The Penal Code includes provisions exonerating an offender for rape, abduction, or other crimes if he marries the victim.

Abortion for rape survivors

- GREEN Abortion for rape survivors is legal or not prohibited.
- AMBER Abortion for rape survivors may be permitted in some cases.
- RED Abortion for rape survivors is prohibited.

Sexual harassment

- GREEN Sexual harassment is defined in legislation and is prohibited by the Penal Code or Labour Code.
- AMBER Sexual harassment is not defined in legislation, but offences in criminal or labour laws provide some protections.
- RED There is minimal or no protection from sexual harassment in criminal or labour laws.

Adultery

- GREEN Adultery is not criminalized.
- AMBER Adultery is not criminalized in the Penal Code, but Sharia penalties apply.
- RED Adultery is criminalized.

Human trafficking

- GREEN There are comprehensive anti-trafficking laws with punitive, protective, and preventive measures.
- AMBER Some distinct forms of trafficking are criminalized, e.g., sex trafficking, but the law does not require protective and preventive measures.
- RED There are minimal or no anti-trafficking offences in criminal law.

Female Genital Mutilation / Cutting

- GREEN FGM/C is prohibited / criminalized.
- AMBER FGM/C is subject to regulation, but is not criminalized.
- RED FGM/C is practised and is not prohibited.
- GREY There are no documented cases. There is no legal prohibition

Sex work and anti-prostitution laws

- GREEN People who sell sex / sex workers are not criminalized.
- AMBER Sex work is criminalized, subject to exceptions that permit sex work in some areas under regulatory supervision.
- RED Anti-prostitution laws criminalize people who sell sex / sex workers.

Same-sex sexual conduct

- GREEN Consensual homosexual conduct between adults is not criminalized. Police do not enforce criminal laws (e.g. debauchery, indecency, immoral conduct) for consensual same-sex conduct or expression of sexual orientation.
- AMBER There are conflicting judicial interpretations of the criminal law relating to homosexual conduct. Police enforce criminal laws (e.g. debauchery, indecency, immoral conduct) to penalize consensual same-sex conduct or expression of sexual orientation.
- RED Homosexual conduct is criminalized.
- GREY The topic was not addressed by the country assessment.

PERSONAL STATUS LAWS

Minimum age of marriage

- GREEN Minimum age of marriage is 18 years or older for women and men. Marriage at a younger age is only permitted if the minimum age is not below 16 years; the grounds for obtaining permission are strictly defined by law; and the law requires the full, free, and informed consent of the child, who must appear in person before the court.
- AMBER The legal age for girls to marry is 18 years or older. Marriage at a younger age is permitted subject to judicial discretion.
- RED The legal age for girls to marry is less than 18 years or there is no minimum age of marriage. Early marriage is not prohibited.

Male (marriage) guardianship over women

- GREEN No legal requirement for a marriage guardian. Male guardianship over adult women does not exist in law.
- AMBER The law requires a male guardian to consent to a woman’s marriage, but includes limitations such as requiring the woman’s consent, not forcing a woman to marry against her will, and/or the right to challenge a guardian’s refusal of consent in court.
- RED Consent of the male guardian to marriage is an essential requirement. There is a lack of legislative protection to prevent forced or early marriage for women and girls subject to guardianship. The role of the male marriage guardian is maintained with weak legal protections for women and girls.

Marriage and divorce

- GREEN Women enjoy equal rights in marriage and divorce.
- AMBER Women enjoy equal rights in some aspects of marriage and divorce, but significant legal inequalities remain.
- RED Women do not enjoy equal rights in all or most aspects of marriage and divorce.

Polygamy

- GREEN Polygamy is prohibited.
- AMBER Polygamy is permitted under strict conditions and requires court approval.
- RED Polygamy is permitted without strict conditions.

Guardianship of children

- GREEN Women and men have equal legal rights to guardianship of children, including after divorce.
- AMBER Women have some legal guardianship rights in important areas, such as decisions regarding education, health, and travel.
- RED Women have no or minimal rights to guardianship of children.

Custody of children

- GREEN Women and men have equal rights to custody of children, including after divorce. Consideration of the best interest of the child is a legal requirement.
- AMBER Women have rights to custody of children up to a certain age, but women’s rights are restricted in some cases, e.g., loss of custody upon remarriage.
- RED Women have no or minimal rights to custody of children, and consideration of the best interest of the child is not a legal requirement.

Inheritance

- GREEN Women and men have equal rights under inheritance laws.
- AMBER A substantial religious minority (e.g., Christians) of women enjoy equal rights under inheritance laws.
- RED Women do not enjoy equal rights under inheritance laws.

LABOUR LAWS

Right to equal pay for the same work as men

- GREEN The labour code provides women with the right to equal pay for the same work as men.
- RED The labour code does not provide women with the right to equal pay for the same work as men.

Right to equal pay for work of equal value (even if women’s work is different from men’s work)

- GREEN The labour code provides women with the right to equal pay for work of the same value as men.
- RED The labour code does not provide women with the right to equal pay for work of the same value as men.

Dismissal for pregnancy

- GREEN The labour code prohibits employers from dismissing women because of pregnancy.
- AMBER Although the labour code does not include a specific prohibition on dismissing women because of pregnancy, such conduct may be illegal under other provisions, e.g., unlawful discrimination.
- RED Dismissing women because of pregnancy is not prohibited.

Maternity leave meets the ILO standard of 14 weeks

- GREEN Women have a legal right to paid maternity leave at the ILO standard of 14 weeks.
- AMBER Women have a legal right to paid maternity leave at less than the ILO standard of 14 weeks
- RED Women do not have a legal right to paid maternity leave.

Gender-specific restrictions on women’s work

- GREEN No gender-specific legal restrictions on night work, arduous work, or specific occupations.
- RED Gender-specific legal restrictions on women’s participation in night work, arduous work, or specific occupations.

Domestic workers

- GREEN Domestic workers are covered by the labour code and have substantial legal protections from exploitation and abuse.
- AMBER Domestic workers have some legal rights to protection from exploitation and abuse, but do not have the same or similar labour law protections that other workers in formal employment enjoy.
- RED Domestic workers have minimal or no legal rights to protection from exploitation and abuse.
